

Youth Justice Project CALL FOR YOUTH PARTICIPANTS!

Educate, empower, and elevate youth voices—ensuring they are heard, supported, and positioned to lead.

About Us

The Youth Justice Project is a youth-centered initiative designed to empower racialized youth aged 15 to 26 with the knowledge, tools, and leadership skills needed to navigate legal systems and drive meaningful change in their communities.

Who We are Looking for?

- Racialized youth (ages 15-26)
- Youth at risk of legal challenges
- Youth seeking leadership opportunities
- Youth navigating complex barriers in life

CALL FOR PARTNER ORGANIZATIONS!

Are you part of a grassroots organization committed to supporting racialized youth in your community?

Do you have a passion for supporting youth in understanding their legal rights and becoming leaders in their communities?

JOIN US in our Youth Justice project, where we aim to educate, empower, and elevate youth voices—ensuring they are heard, supported, and positioned to lead in their communities.

Benefits of partnering with us:

- ✓ Access to workshops and training focused on legal literacy and systems leadership and advocacy for youth
- ✓ Participate in conversation circles and information sessions
- ✓ Become natural supports, leaders, and advocates within your community
- ✓ Connect and engage with other community groups and stakeholders
- ✓ Access to support for community led action planning

How to join us:

Host a Conversation Circle

Partner with us to bring legal education and leadership training to youth in your school, community group, or organization.

Refer Youth Participants

Help us connect with youth who would benefit from systems leadership training, advocacy opportunities, or legal literacy support.

Become Natural Support

Receive training to informally support racialized youth in your community through culturally responsive approaches.

Collaborate on Policy & Systems Change

Join us in advancing youth-led advocacy and policy engagement initiatives.
